TOBACCO AND CORN FAIR

Is Well Under Way—November 22, 24, and 25 Are the Dates Selected to Hold the Fair—The Fair a Big Benefit to Maysville and Mason County.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 22, 24, and 25, have been selected as the days and the Liberty Warehouse, as the place for the big fair. Every energy of the Chamber of Commerce will be bent towards making it a real "go." A success is certain. As to how big a success depends on the vim and push put into the undertaking by Maysville citizens.

Last year 5678 persons passed through the gates. This year we want 15,000.

The fair is for the benefit of Maysville and Mason County. It is a community advertising scheme which is planned to place the tobacco market, the local agricultural opportunities, our manufacturing industries and our merchants splendid stocks before the public of this and its contiguous counties. As what Maysville offers is better known to Mason counties than to others the bulk of the advertising will be done in the adjacent Ohio and Kentucky counties. If each merchant and each citizen will boost this undertaking consistently and energetically, it will be that much more of a success. There is more money in the country than ever before. More to be spent, more to be bought, more to do. Let

SECOND CONTINGENT

Of Mason County Men Will Leave For Camp Taylor on Next Saturday—Will Report on Friday Evening—Names of Men That Certified to Leave.

The mail yesterday and this morning carried to thirty-four Mason county men ordered from the Mason County Exemption Board to get ready to leave Maysville for Camp Taylor, Louisville on next Saturday. The men were ordered to report to the local board headquarters at four o'clock Friday afternoon and they will be cared for at a local hotel over night.

Mason county's quota for this trip is forty-seven men and as the local board only had thirty-four certified for service, they immediately wired the District Board to certify them at once the names of twenty more men so that they would have enough to make out the full quota and still have some left over to fill in vacancies in case of sickness, etc.

The local Board yesterday morning announced the names of the thirty-four men ordered in Friday afternoon as follows:

Lee P. Wells.
Hayden Carpenter.
John D. Grant.
William Limerick.
Dimitrios Carambellas.
Bowden T. Cummins.
Carl O. Walters.
John S. West.
Elijah Applegate.
Thomas S. Moore.

John L. Young.
Lee Porter Ray.
Joseph S. Himes.
Walter R. Selby.
Frank Joseph Seamon.
Robert A. Means.

The Board selected Messrs. Henry N. Helmer and John L. Threlkeld as commanders of this second contingent and they will be in charge of the men as soon as they assemble at board headquarters and receive full instructions from the Board members.

More Certified
Last night the local board received from the district board a wire certifying twenty extra men. In the list to be found the names of several men who appealed their cases from the local board, but whose appeals were denied.

The other twenty men who will also leave next Saturday are as follows:

Albert C. Savage.
Louis D. Poyntz.
Yancey Tuel.
James Dwire.
Leslie B. Gifford.
James C. Davis.

MRS. GOLDIE BROOKOVER DEAD
Mrs. Goldie Brookover, of Aberdeen, died early yesterday morning at the home of her brother, Mr. Russell Brookover near Manchester. Miss Brookover was a sufferer from tuberculosis. She is survived by her parents, who are both invalids and one sister, Mrs. Blanche Cooper, of near Aberdeen and two brothers, Russell and James Brookover, both of Adams county. The remains were removed to the family home at Aberdeen from which place the funeral will be held.

INVESTIGATE SILENT POLICEMEN
Councilman W. Hall Strode, of the Sixth Ward, a member of the special committee given power to act in regard to the purchase of traffic posts or silent policemen, is in Cincinnati today and while in that city will make investigations into these posts. The committee has been appointed for several months but has yet done nothing. It is expected that upon his return to the city there will be a meeting of the committee and something definite in this regard will be done.

300,000 MEN

Go Forward Today To Be Trained For Battle Against German Autocracy—Call For Hundred Thousand More Men To Be Issued Soon.

Washington, September 18 — Marched for the last time as civilians and under civilian authority, more than 300,000 men of the national army will go forward tomorrow to the sixteen cantonments to be trained for the battle against German autocracy. Their next move will be as fighting men toward the battlefields of France.

The whole nation will be astir with the movement of the selective forces. The men represent approximately 45 per cent of the total quota under the first call from each of nearly 5,000 local advance guard of five per cent of the total, composed of experienced men, including cooks. Out of this has been created a skeleton organization into which the second increment will begin to be absorbed tomorrow with little confusion. When the last men of this increment arrive the camps will house half of the first call forces or 343,500 men and the other half will follow as rapidly as quarters and equipment are made available.

In a statement tonight, the War Department says the enormous task of obtaining equipment and supplied for the army is moving satisfactorily. Some of the men of the national army may be only partially equipped for some time, after they are mobilized, and no attempt will be made to furnish them with full war equipment until the eve of their departure for Europe. Some civilian clothing, such as overcoats, will have to be used for a time, as the clothing industry has not yet caught up with its work.

With the mobilization of the 687,000 of the first call under the selective service law in progress, the question arises as to whether that number of men will be sufficient to fill all units of the national guard and national army. There are indications that a deficiency in men will be disclosed when official reports from all the thirty-two training camps are available.

Seventeen divisions of the national guard have been organized but with the exception of the New York, Pennsylvania and a few others and the 42nd division which soon will embark for France, they are not at a maximum war strength. The fighting strength of the seventeen divisions under the new tables of organization would be 623,000 men, supplemented by many thousands of auxiliary troops. Whatever deficiencies there are will be supplied promptly from the national army as the guard will go first to the front.

MAYOR BROKE TRAFFIC LAW
Mayor J. Wesley Lee Found Guilty of Passing a Street Car With His Car By a Jury, Pays Fine of Ten Dollars and Costs.

Mayor J. Wesley Lee was found guilty of breaking the traffic law by a jury in Police Court yesterday afternoon and given the lowest possible fine under the ordinance—ten dollars and costs.

Several days ago Street car motor-man Frank Limerick turned over to the police the number of car which passed his car at Union and Second streets while the same was discharging and receiving passengers. He also turned over the names of witnesses in the case. It developed that the car belonged to Mayor J. Wesley Lee and the Mayor was ordered into court.

At the request of the city and by agreement with Judge Whitaker, a jury was summoned to try the issue. The witnesses in the case were Frank Limerick, Frank Hunsicker and A. M. January for the city and the mayor and Harry Richardson for the defense. Both Limerick and Hunsicker swore that the Mayor drove by the car while it was discharging and receiving passengers. Mr. January did not see the car and Mr. Richardson although he could not recall the particular time said he had ridden with the mayor several times and that he could not recall his having passed a car while receiving and discharging passengers.

The jury was out quite a while and for a time it looked like the case would wind up in a hung jury.

NEEDLES JOY-RIDING

This country is consuming crude petroleum at the rate of 335,000,000 barrels a year, and as the annual product is now only 300,000,000 barrels, the reserve surplus is being exhausted. Production must increase or consumption must decrease. As the possibility of the former is regarded as doubtful, the latter appears to be a necessity. Therefore the Advisory Commission of the Council of National Defense, realizing the need of conservation, has issued the following warning: "Pleasure riding should be curtailed. People should look upon their automobiles as necessities to be used only when needed. Not a gallon of gasoline should be used in the present emergency except for some useful end."

Many thousands of Americans, in response to Mr. Hoover's appeal, are now using less wheat flour than formerly. This is a harder task than the cutting down of the consumption of gasoline by curtailing more pleasure riding, for all over the country pleasure riding is done to excess. All necessary uses of the automobile could continue, even regular family pleasure outings might not be interrupted, and still the consumption of gasoline could be greatly cut down if excessive and needless joy-riding could be checked. There are thousands of car owners who are unwilling to stretch their legs in order to do an errand two or three squares away. There are hundreds of thousands of young folk who joy-ride the whole evening throughout the open season. They may be seen dashing ceaselessly around in every town of this country, and the observer often wonders when their prodigious appetite will be appeased. A vast saving could be accomplished without hardship to any one, and even with benefit as a result of variation in amusement, if the victims of immoderate joy-riding could be induced to heed the appeal.

IS HOOVER AN ALARMIST?

From day to day we hear through bulletins from Mr. Hoover of the various forms of shortage that threaten us. Some people are sick of hearing from him. The do not believe things are so bad after all, and they do not want to hear anything so unpleasant, even if true.

Few precedents throw much light on the situation. Food and supplies became very scarce in the confederacy, and they rose to sensational figures here in the North, even if we make allowance for the depreciated currency in which they found measurement. But that was a small war in its drain on world resources and world reservoirs of accumulated wealth, by comparison with the struggle of which we have now become a part.

The law of supply and demand seems to re-enforce the Hoover idea. Eggs, for example, are not in the control of a great trust; two thirds of the families of the land can keep hens if they so desire, and probably an equally large fraction can raise the food with which to feed them. And yet we see the price of eggs, and we hear what shrewd observers say of the effects of killing off hens on egg prices in the near future.

This war is proving a serious strain on the productive capacity of the human race. The diversion of energy and man-power for military purposes is diminishing the yield of the fields. What shall we do—believe Hoover and get along with half a loaf today, or go confidently forward in the expectation that all will be well, and await developments? We could answer more intelligently if we knew when the war would end, although we shall, in any event, be years in recovering the old levels in the several reservoirs out of which the world lives.—Boston Herald.

A RECORD TO BE PROUD OF

Under our republican form of government, with the public free to criticize and Congress free to talk ad infinitum, charge and counter-charge, wrangling and delay, are inevitable. Yet patriotic citizens need not be discouraged, for the spectacle of what has been done is more imposing than the spectacle of what remains undone. The record of what has been definitely accomplished since April 6 is amazing, establishing a record far beyond that of the earlier periods of our previous wars. The successful war loan, the great gift to the Red Cross, the registration of ten million young Americans, voluntary enlistments increasing the regular army, navy and National Guard from 300,000 to about 800,000, the dispatch of our first contingents of troops to France within forty days after the order was given, are only a few of the achievements, and, with the completion of the business of the great draft, the passage of the food control and aviation bills and the adjustment of the Shipping Board difficulties, the list of actual performance in so short a time will be record-breaking indeed.

In a review of the record of the first three months the impartial Army and Navy Journal finds only words of praise and enthusiasm, although it covers a wide field of activity. It says, for example, that "in material accomplishments we have set up a record before the world of which we may well be proud," and it is especially gratified that military experts, not "political generals," have been in command of the great undertakings.

A few pacifist Congressmen, German spies and secretly pro-German organizations, societies financed with German money, and the very limited number of sincere but addle-pated "non-resisters," with their endless stream of talk, their disloyal publications, in German, their peace conventions, their efforts to block legislation and hamstringing the government, can encourage Germany, protract the war and kill thousands of men needlessly, but they can not turn the American people from their purpose or change the final outcome.

A restoration of the status quo ante, without indemnities or reparation of any kind, would leave poor Belgium a blasted emptiness, a mere shivered rind with all the juice sucked out—the criminal oppressors being merely required to withdraw from the scene of their unspeakable atrocities.

ASSESSMENT OF DISCOUNT AGAINST WHEAT

It has been brought to the attention of the United States Department of Agriculture from several sources that, in certain parts of the country where this year's crop of wheat is now being moved, the country grain dealers are assessing the farmers a discount against all wheat purchased, contending that such assessment is mandatory by reason of the official grain standards of the United States for wheat under the United States grain standards Act. Apparently the contention on the part of the country grain dealers is based upon the item "dockage" contained in the official standards. From information received by the department it appears, however, that the discount is actually an arbitrary assessment in the interest of the buyers, and is neither on the basis of the official standards nor required or contemplated by the Act or the regulations thereunder.

The primary purpose in the establishment of the official grain standards of the United States was to provide a basis whereby parties to transactions involving the purchase and sale of grain shipped or delivered for shipment in interstate or foreign commerce might, through being able to obtain a correct application of such standards, arrive at the actual value and make settlement accordingly. The standards for wheat do not provide for any arbitrary assessment for dockage. They do provide for the determination of the amount of sand, dirt, weed seeds, weed stems and certain other matter, called dockage, which actually may be present in a lot of wheat, the amount of which, if in excess of one-half of one per cent by weight is to be stated in terms of the actual percentage as a part of the grade designation of the wheat. This is called the dockage system of grading and has been in use for many years in the northwestern States prior to the adoption of the official standards.

The transactions in question appear to be purely local, not involving interstate commerce, and are perhaps conducted in a way not within the prohibitions of the Act. Nevertheless, the Department of Agriculture is investigating the matter and will be glad to have any facts which may be of value. It will do everything in its power to bring about the discontinuance of misrepresentation based on the Act or the standards thereunder.

BASEBALL GOSSIP

Bobby Roth of the Cleveland Indians is going right after the major leagues' base stealing honors with the speed never wide open.

Cruise, of the Cardinals, and Kauff, the Giants' gardner, have slowed up in the race for the National league batting championship.

It begins to look as if the early prediction that the Mackmen wouldn't finish in the cellar has turned out to be a fliv.

The Washington Senators boast of having put a crimp in the fled Sox pennant hopes, and declare they will do the same thing to the White Sox. But will they?

Recent averages show that of the eight .300 hitters in the National league three are members of the Cardinals—Hornsby, Cruise and J. Smith.

The Western teams are the big works in the American league this season. Grabbing three of the four positions in the first division indicates that the Westerners have the goods.

"Rob" Russell of the White Sox and "Slim" Sallee of the Giants, the leading pitchers of their respective leagues, are being picked by the wise ones to face each other in one of the world's series thrillers.

There is quite an array of promising bush talent to be disposed of at the big league park draft meeting in Cincinnati this week, notwithstanding that the most of the minor leagues have had a tough year.

Fred Mitchell's Cubs have their eye on the Reds and will battle on to the finish to land Chicago among the first four National league teams.

Eddie Collins is the only member of the White Sox who has participated in a world's series. As a pastime with the Athletics the star second sacker took part in four of the big doings.

WARNING TO WHEAT GROWERS

U. S. Department of Agriculture Cautions Farmers Against Extravagant Claims of Seed Promoters.

A warning to American farmers not to be misled, in their zeal for increased wheat production, into planting abnormally high-priced seed for which extravagant claims are made, has just been issued by the United States Department of Agriculture.

"Wheat is attracting, at the present time, greater attention than perhaps ever before, owing to its comparative scarcity and high price and the necessity of sowing a large acreage this fall," says the department state. "As might be expected, therefore, various persons are offering to the public, varieties that they describe as far superior to the kinds now being grown. These varieties are usually given some catchy name and extravagant claims are made for them.

"An example of this kind is the Alaska, or Seven-headed wheat that was exploited a few years ago. The backers of this wheat did not get very far with it, however, as the Post Office Department issued a fraud order and their business came to a standstill. This type of wheat having a large, branched head has been offered at high prices to the people of this country many times under one name or another. Records concerning it go back more than a hundred years. Just now another exploitation is threatening under the name 'Titanic.' This type of wheat with branched heads should be left strictly alone by the farmers of the country.

"A favorite scheme employed by those having wheat for sale for which they wish to obtain exorbitant prices is to claim that their variety requires but a small amount of seed per acre. A peck of seed, twenty pounds and a half bushel per acre, are amounts frequently mentioned. Of course the claims of maximum yields from these small seedlings are not substantiated by fact. Only on dry lands or under very special conditions is the seedling of as little as even 45 pounds per acre of wheat advisable. On nearly all of the wheat lands of the country it is more profitable to sow from a bushel to two bushels of seed per acre than to sow less than a bushel.

"The United States Department of Agriculture has shown in previous publications that the claims of maximum yields obtained from sowing one or two pecks to the acre of the wheat known as Stoner, Miracle, or Marvelous are not substantiated by experiments. Safe rules in the case of all wheats for which such claims are made are first to sow as much as has been found profitable with other varieties in the neighborhood, and second, not to pay high prices for the seed.

"Radical claims of high yields are made for some varieties of wheat. It is not uncommon in advertising a new variety for an unscrupulous or uninformed promoter to claim yields four or five times that of the average yield of the country. Claims as high as 15 or more times the average yield have been made in special cases. Such claims are absurd and no one need be misled by them. A well-bred variety in the section to which it is adapted may yield a few bushels more than the varieties being commonly grown. Very seldom, indeed, can a doubling of the yield be expected.

"Buying seed grown at a great distance from home is another thing that wheat growers should be on their guard against. No wheat grown and bred for California conditions, for instance, no matter how good for California, has been found adapted to the country east of the Rockies. California adapted wheats do not succeed east of that State. Neither would the wheat adapted to the Atlantic Coast or the Mississippi Valley succeed in California. In short, home-grown seed should be used unless the State agricultural experiment station or the United States Department of Agriculture advises otherwise."

MAYSVILLE PICTURED IN SUNDAY SCHOOL MAGAZINE

It is a big thing from an advertising standpoint to have state conventions in this man's town. This month's issue of the State Sunday School Magazine devotes the most of its space to stories of Maysville urging all of the Sunday School folks of the state to attend the state convention of the Kentucky Sunday School Association which will be held here next month. A large full page picture of Maysville from the hills and many interesting stories of the beauty and history of the city are to be found in the magazine.

THE DAILY REMINDER

In 'The Day's News' Judge John F. Hyman, who is expected to receive the Democratic nomination for mayor of New York City in today's primaries, has for some years been a picturesque figure in local politics in New York. He was born on a farm near Hunter, N. Y., in 1868, and in early life was employed as a railroad section hand. At the age of 21 he decided to seek his fortune in the metropolis. His first employment after reaching New York was as a fireman on the elevated railroad. Later he became an engineer. While thus employed he found time to take the law course at New York University. When he got his degree he went into practice in Brooklyn. At about the same time he began to take an active interest in politics, and eventually was elected county judge.

Today's Anniversaries

1778—Lord Brougham, the English chancellor for whom a carriage was named, born in Edinburgh, Scotland. Died at Cannes, France, May 7, 1868.

1790—Last consecration of an American prelate by Anglican bishops.

1803—Detroit's first fire company was organized.

1862—Confederates seized steamers on Lake Ontario.

1863—First day of the battle of Chancellorsville, in which Gen. Bragg defeated the Federals under Gen. Rosecrans.

Unightly Complexion

This is very frequently caused by soap and other matter remaining on the face to clog the pores. Hard water makes it almost impossible to wash the face properly to preserve a beautiful complexion.

The skin needs an occasional antiseptic to remove impurities and overcome the effects of hard water and questionable soap. A solution of 20 Mule Team Bore will do this. The expense is a trifle and the result is a wonder.

You will find 20 Mule Team Powdered Bore a splendid antiseptic and its effect on the skin is very healing indeed. Buy it from your druggist.

CITY MISSION DOING GREAT WORK

Through the efforts of the City Mission many children whose parents are unable to purchase the proper clothing for them to attend school, have been fitted out with clothing. The School Board has furnished the necessary books. The call of the City Mission for clothing and material to be made into clothing for children has been responded to liberally.

WAR OBLIGATIONS

Of Deeper Sense Are Urged By Marshall—Reiterates Belief America Will Never Become Involved In European Politics.

New York, September 17 — Vice President Marshall, speaking here tonight at the Golden Jubilee Celebration of Scottish Rite Masons, urged a deeper sense of American obligation in the war. In the belief that the United States could never become involved in European politics, he said, the question of dual citizenship was not raised until the war in spite of the great tide of immigration. "No one ever doubted the loyalty to the flag of all these people, whether foreign born or the sons of foreign born," said the Vice President. Our isolation made it immaterial to us whether there was any difference between loyalty and patriotism, and we did not face the question until it became of moment.

"The years drew us closer and closer to Europe in the ties of commerce and in the friendly relations of travel. More and more we became a part of the world; and suddenly a mad monarch, drunk with military power and crazed with the idea that he was divinely ordained to rule the world plunged Europe into a war so awful that all wars which had preceded it paled into insignificance.

"Still we stood by our ancient idea of isolation, but in two years and a half we discovered that there was a vast difference between loyalty and patriotism. The hearts of men flamed up very largely in response to the blood that flowed in their veins. Patriotism showed itself as dependent, not upon place of residence nor political ideas, but rather upon heredity. "Patience at last was exhausted, and there was nothing for a self-respecting people to do, if their republic was to be true to its traditions save to engage in the war on the side of democracy.

"I do not care to engage in any hair-splitting, although there seems to be discussion as to whether this war is being waged to make the world safe for democracy or to make democracy safe for the world. Of course, it was meant by the President when he spoke of making the world safe for democracy of making it safe for real democracy.

"We all know that liberty is not license, nor democracy demagoguery. We all know that the world can not be made safe for murder and arson and pillage and anarchy and everything for which the syndicate and the I. W. W.'s may stand; and we know also that such things as these can not be made safe for the world.

"THE HOUSE OF QUALITY"

TODAY'S EVENTS

Through the country the mobilization of the 40 per cent quota of the national army will begin today. Today is Phil primary day throughout New York State, with interest centering chiefly in the mayoralty contest in New York city.

The annual convention of the Indiana Independent Telephone Association meets at Indianapolis today and will continue over tomorrow. Many leading representatives of the insurance business throughout the country are expected in Boston today for the annual meeting of the Western Union.

The three days beginning today have been set apart in Florida as days for the women of that State to register for national service.

Today will be the day of the annual parade, the spectacular feature of the national convalesces of Old Fellows now in session in Louisville.

War and other problems of vital interest to organized labor are to be discussed at the sixth annual meeting of the Southern Labor Congress, which is to begin its sessions today at Charleston, S. C.

Primaries are to be held in Pennsylvania today for the nomination of candidates for State, county and local officials to be chosen at the November election. Eight candidates are contesting for the mayoralty of Pittsburgh.

The case of Captain William J. Condon, U. S. army surgeon, accused of the murder of John V. Piper, a post-graduate student at Rutgers College, last February, is to be called for trial today at New Brunswick, N. J. The shooting of young Piper is surrounded with much mystery, and the trial is expected to be a sensational one.

GET NO VOTE ON DEFICIENCY BILL

Washington, September 17 — The house today failed to reach a final vote on the seven million dollar urgent deficiency bill, consideration of sections providing additional funds for the war department consuming practically the entire day. Many amendments increasing the sum proposed in the original bill were approved.

RUSSIA PREPARES

To Stand Firm Against Economic-Slav Republic Said to Have Recovered in Great Measure From Internal Troubles. Conference at Mohilev To Decide Fate of Korniloff.

New York, September 18—Russia, having recovered in a great measure from the effects of recent internal difficulties, is preparing to make a firmer stand against the common enemy. It is announced that the leadership of the Russian armies has been reorganized and that the fruitfulness of reformatory plans in the armies themselves is expected shortly.

Premier Kerensky and the war and the marine ministers in the cabinet have gone to Mohilev, Russian great headquarters to confer with the military leaders. They also will see General Korniloff and his leading aides in the recent revolt. Whether Korniloff, the leader of the summer offensive in Gallea this year is to suffer the supreme penalty for his act probably will depend upon the result of the conferences at Mohilev.

The Russian northern army, which has made some progress toward driving the Germans back to the Dvina line in the Riga region, on Sunday occupied several German positions between Pskov and Riga. On Monday the captured Teuton defenses northeast of Friedland, south of Riga. In its official report, Berlin makes no mention of activity in this region.

General Steinhilber, commander on the Rumanian front, has carried out successfully an offensive movement in the Suedlitz valley, northwest of Pskov. A section of the fortified Austro-German defenses near Varnitz were occupied by the Rumanians. German attacks in the Pantzu region, to the southeastward, were repulsed.

Raiders continue on the northern and of the western front, with both the British and the Germans as the aggressors. Berlin, however, mentions no infantry activity on the front of Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria. The artillery and aerial activity on the western front remains intense. From Neuport to near Arras and especially in the Ypres sector, the opposing guns are showing increased activity.

In two efforts against the French positions on the Alsace front the German crown prince again has met with failure. Near the Meuse river on the Neufchatel road, the Germans reached the French advance lines, only to be thrown out again. In Champagne and on the right bank of the Meuse the artillery fire has been more spirited.
